The Key to a Fortune

[Original.]

John Nettleton was an inventor. He invented a number of small devices for various purposes, but none of them turned out to be of value, or, if they did, some one who furnished the means to put them on the market reaped the benefit. Nettleton's wife and a girl she had adopted stood by him through all his disappointments. His son Peter, as soon as he became old enough to shift for himself, became a machinist and drifted away from home.

Peter knew enough of such matters to feel sure that if his father had invented means of overcoming the defect he had made a model of the contrivance. He and Maggie hunted all over the house for such a model. Every closet was ransacked, spaces under the eaves of the roof, cellar and workshop, to no purpose. The model was not to be found.

The pet scheme of John Nettleton's life was a machine for saving labor, the object of which he alone understood. While thus engaged he dreamed at night of great fortunes secured, or that some one was destroying his model just as he had perfected it. Often his wife would awaken him when he was struggling in nightmare. But before he accomplished his object she died, leaving no one but Maggie Thorpe, her adopted daughter, to care for him. She remained with him and was a perpetual bow of promise.

It was several years after his wife's death before Nettleton struck the fundamental idea of his machine. But on applying it he found that a device was necessary to overcome a defect which, though trifling in itself, rendered the machine useless. He worked three years over this and overcame it. Then he made a model of his machine, and a separate model of his contrivance to overcome the defect. He had been so swindled by persons appropriating his inventions that he chose to keep a key to this one, which would alone unlock the secret. The model of the machine he kept in his workroom. The model of the contrivance he kept no one knew where.

But with all his precaution John Nettleton never reaped the benefit of his invention. Death took him away so suddenly that he had no time to reveal to any one where he kept the model he called his key model. Peter was called home to bury his father and found nothing to represent an inheritance except a will bequeathing the little house and the invention to Maggie Thorpe. Peter saw the model of the machine, and, being a machinist, was delighted with it; but, setting it in motion, he soon saw the defect. It seemed a simple matter to remedy that, and he set to work to do so. Maggie told him that his father had done so, but she knew not by what contrivance.

Peter obtained employment near by and nights and holidays went to his father's workshop to find a remedy for the defect. As his father had been encouraged by Maggie, so was the son. She would go into the workshop, which was in the rear of the house, when he was there, and when she found him despondent would remind him that his father had overcome it, and what had been done once could be done again. Often late at night the shop door would open to reveal Maggie's sympathetic face while she held in her hand a plate on which she had placed a simple supper.

But Peter had not the genius of his father and at last made up his mind that if he did not give up hunting for the secret he would go mad. Then, and not till then, Maggie advised him to give it up and reminded him that there were fortunes to be made in other ways.

Peter decided to go back to the work he had done before his father's death, but when he came to part with Maggie he found that he had won a greater treasure than fortune—the heart of a pure young girl whose disposition would render her the most valuable of wives. With this discovery he made another—that he could not go and leave Maggie. He must take her with him.

Peter bought a plain gold ring which he took to Maggie. Not finding her in the house he went to the shop. She was there soldering a kettle that had become leaky. Peter produced the ring and as he was about to slip it on her finger dropped it. It rolled into one of the great seams between the boards in the floor.

There was nothing to do but take up a board. Peter took up two and found the ring on a box placed between the joists. He took out both the ring and the box, and seeing that the latter was locked Maggie went for John Nettleton's keys, which she had kept since his death. She unlocked the box and displayed a model.

Something told them both at once that here was the missing key to a fortune. Taking out the model Peter turned with it to the model of the machine, but Maggie espied a paper in the bottom of the box.

God, if necessary, will direct my little girl to this.

Peter saw at once how the connection was to be applied to the machine and catching up a screwdriver made the attachment. Then setting the whole in motion they both watched it working smoothly.

"Peter," said Maggie at last, handing him the paper, "see what your father said about our finding the key to a fortune."

"The key to a fortune," he said after reading it, "is often the goodness of a woman. At any rate it is so in this case." FLORA MILLIGAN.

COMPARISONS.

As Soon as We Begin to Make Them We Begin to Suffer.

We would not have to strive so for courage if what we vaguely call "things" were more evenly distributed among us, for no one's lot would then seem to him an evil one. If we were all humpbacked or lame or blind; if every husband were unfaithful and every child a cross; if we were all poor and no man had any more than another; if nobody's son died in his early strength and nobody was loved while we sat neglected, then who of us would know what sorrows and afflictions were? We would take each of them for granted, as a Chinaman takes his yellow skin and an Indian his red one.

It is because we see our estate differing from that of our fellows that we are tempted to comparisons, and it is in the making of these comparisons that a sense of our sorrows, like the knowledge of our afflictions, is first born. How would we have known that we were poor unless we had seen some one else who was richer or that our son was unsuccessful unless the son of somebody else were making a great mark in the world? Would our little children be unhappy with only one dress had they not seen other children with two?

It comes to this, then: When we begin to make comparisons, we begin to suffer. This may seem to be a hard saying, but it is a true one.—Lillie Hamilton French in Harper's Bazar.

STAG LEGENDS.

Ancient Stories of the Animal's Antipathy to Snakes.

There is no beast in the world to which more legendary virtues are attributed than the stag, partly owing to the tale of St. Hubert, partly to a supposed antipathy of stags toward serpents, partly to a peculiar mass of gristle in the shape of a cross which is found in the animal's heart. A whole book might be written on the miraculous power of the heart and the efficacy of different parts of him against the troubles of this evil world. Fouilloux, in the sixteenth century, gives a long list, and Master Robert Topsel fills page upon page with them, but our author in his solid English fashion is chary of accepting such stories.

Men say, he admits, that when a stag is right old he beateth a serpent with his foot till she be wroth, and then eateth her, and then goeth to drink, and then runneth hither and thither till the water and venom be meddled together, and maketh him cast all his evil humors that he had in his body, and maketh his flesh come all anew. But, he adds, with the solemnity of Herodotus himself, "Thereof make I none affirmation." And this phrase occurs again and again, for the Comte de Foix is too great and noble a hunter that any assertion of his should be laughed at.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Gambling a Religious Duty.

"Speaking of gambling," a missionary said, "I know of a sect that regards it as a religious duty, like fasting or prayer. This sect is the Hindoos. They one day in each year gamble like mad from sunrise till sunset. The day is the festival of the lamps, a day sacred to Lakshun, the goddess of wealth. A tremendous lot of money changes hands in Lakshun's honor. All this gambling is done to test the financial success that will attend on each person throughout the year. If a gambler loses he knows a year of hard luck is ahead of him. If he wins he knows he may expect a twelvemonth of prosperity. Strange to say, a good deal of cheating accompanies this religious gambling."

Champion Divers.

"Larry Donovan," said a professional swimmer, "made the highest dive on record. It was 210 feet—a dive from the Brooklyn bridge. Donovan also took a dive from Niagara bridge, a good 200 feet. There are no other divers in the same class with Larry. Jack Burns made a dive of 150 feet from the topmost yardarm of the Three Brothers, the largest sailing ship of its time, and Jim O'Rourke and Julius Gautier have done some good diving, too—100 feet, 125 feet, and so on—but it is doubtful if Donovan's record will ever be broken."

The Crawfish's Tail.

The tail of a crawfish serves that animal as an oar. By a peculiar jerk of the tail the animal can retire from a dangerous object with almost incredible swiftness. The tail is much more effective in moving the animal backward than forward, a singular instance of adaptation to its situation, for by means of its tail it can withdraw into its hole with such swiftness as in an instant to place it out of danger.

GERMAN GLEE CLUBS.

Early Days of the Saengerfests in This Country.

In the early days of saengerfests in this country they were held annually. The third saengerfest was held in New York in 1852, and many Newark Germans attended. Below are given extracts from the Newark Daily Advertiser, printed at the time:

June 10, 1852.—The German glee clubs of New York will celebrate the third annual festival in New York this year on the 19th to 22d of June. The New York Journal of Commerce states that the glee clubs from abroad will be received by the New York clubs and honored with a torchlight procession. The principal performance will take place at the Academy of Music, Fourteenth street, when the choruses will be sung by over 1,200 male voices, accompanied by an orchestra of 100 pieces. On the 22d will be held a picnic on the Bloomingdale road, opposite Striker's bay.

June 22.—Third musical jubilee of German singers, Saturday to Tuesday, 19th to 22d. The execution of the "Magic Flute" overture by 1,200 voices was very uncommon and surprising by the New York clubs and was received with great applause. The Eintrachts of Newark sang "Wallisischer Schiffergesang" in a distinguished manner. But the most marked performance was Martin Luther's "Ein Feste Burg Ist Unser Gott," arranged by Finke. We felt immediately what religious music really is—how grand, solemn and sublime such a hymn is when performed by a large orchestra and hundreds of voices. It was something to be remembered long. Kossuth was present during an intermission and was cheered.—Newark News.

THE SERPENT'S VENOM.

Mohammedan Legend of the Origin of the Tobacco Plant.

The prophet was taking a stroll in the country when he saw a serpent, stiff with cold, lying on the ground. He compassionately took it up and warmed it in his bosom. When the serpent had recovered it said:

"Divine prophet, listen. I am now going to bite thee."

"Why, pray?" inquired Mohammed.

"Because thy race persecutes mine and tries to stamp it out."

"But does not thy race, too, make perpetual war against mine?" was the prophet's rejoinder. "How canst thou, besides, be so ungrateful and so soon forget that I saved thy life?"

"There is no such thing as gratitude upon this earth," replied the serpent, "and if I were now to spare thee either thou or another of thy race would kill me. By Allah, I shall bite thee."

"If thou hast sworn by Allah, I will not cause thee to break thy vow," said the prophet, holding his hand to the serpent's mouth. The serpent bit him, but he sucked the wound with his lips and spat the venom on the ground. And on that very spot there sprang up a plant which combines within itself the venom of the serpent and the compassion of the prophet. Men call this plant by the name of tobacco.—Conte Arabe.

No Wool Over His Eyes.

Uncle Abe, a grizzled old negro, visited a zoological garden. He stood fascinated before a cage containing a chimpanzee and could not be induced to move. After awhile the animal came to the front of the cage and Uncle Abe spoke to him.

"Howdy?" he said. "Howdy?"

The chimpanzee not making any response. Uncle Abe chuckled and winked at him knowingly.

"Dat's right; dat's de way ter do. Doan' you nebber 'gin ter talk. Ef you does white man put er hoe in yer han' en meck yer wuk!" he said.—Harper's Weekly.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Barthalow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach affections as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

"The Common People."

A little stir was created in the Republican State Convention at Santa Cruz over the frequent reference made by Governor Pardee to the "common people." Exception was taken to the term which was used by his excellency. Perhaps the good Governor used it with too great frequency, or mayhap it sounded patronizingly, but what ever the cause of the offense, it was made a point of, and the labor representatives took it up and applause greeted Gillett, the successful candidate before the convention, who substituted another term to designate the people whom Governor Pardee dubbed "common."

The term "common people" has long had popular usage and conveys nothing disparaging. When accurately defined it may mean opposed to proper and refined, but common people number among them talent, wealth, intelligence, skill and all the attributes except perhaps title.

Good citizenship and character are the standards by which we are all judged, and if people possess these they are all good members of society and have the right to expect the recognition and good will of their fellows. The working man and the toiler in the fields should not be set apart and designated as common people while others dub themselves of another social class or strata. There is just one standard by which we all must measure here and on the other side. Political honors, social achievments, style, snobbishness, have no real value and do not make the man or woman. Because a man does not dine at a swell club instead of a restaurant shall we class him with the common people? Because a woman lavishes money on her wardrobe and plays bridge whist instead of wearing calico and working in her home shall we say she is of the common people? No, there is but one true standard. All else is veneer self-applied and warranted to come off and reveal the truth beneath. The "common people" embrace all kinds of people. The only kind of people that warrant the term when defined as ordinary or vulgar are to be found as readily among the aristocrats as any other class.

W. A Beard of Sacramento will be Duncan E. McKinlay's competitor in this Congressional district next November. Mr. Beard received the Democratic nomination in the Sacramento Convention Wednesday. He is a resident of the Sacramento county without a political record. Duncan E. McKinlay's Republican friends have no fear of him, even though he be a Democratic prophet whose "beard" his followers will swear by in the Congressional battle to be fought out between him and Duncan E. McKinlay.

Bell Nominated For Governor.

Ex- Congressman Theodore Bell of Napa was nominated for Governor at the Democratic State Convention in Sacramento Wednesday. Jas. D. Phelan of San Francisco declined to allow his name to go before the convention and this left a clear field for the popular young Napa lawyer. Mr. Bell is without a doubt the strongest man the Democrats could have selected to to run against Gillett and it behooves the Republicans not to be too sanguine of a walk-over in the Gubernatorial race in November. Bell ran thousands of votes ahead of his ticket in this district two years ago when pitted against Duncan E. McKinlay for Congressional honors, and he is a foeman worthey of any man's steel.

Fire in Tiburon.

Business Portion of the Town Practicallu Wiped Out.

Tiburon had a $100,000 fire late Thursday afternoon. The conflagration was started from an unknown cause in George Fearns' saloon and the fire spread with great rapidity. The town firemen were altogether unable to cope with the situation, especially as some of the fire hydrants were found to be out of repair.

Fire boats were sent from San Francisco and did great work in saving property along the water front. Assistance also came from Angel Island.

For some time the ferry slips and dockage of the California Northwestern railway were in danger, but the flames were driven back by the local firemen and big streams of water from the fire boats. The railroad shops had a narrow escape. The buildings destroyed include the hotel and numerous business houses.

This is the third time in twenty-four years that the town has been practically destroyed by fire, but each time the buildings arise again. The work of rebuilding will commence without delay.

The passengers on the five o'clock train from Sonoma and way points were interested spectators of the fire for several minutes before the train pulled out northward.

Money Is Superfluous.

The Cherryvale Republican has figured out the financial ethics of journalism in the following clever manner:

"There is so much pleasure in publishing a newspaper that some editors are refusing money as a reward for their services. It takes wind to run a newspaper. It takes gall to run a newspaper. It takes scintillating, acrobatic imagination and a half dozen white shirts and railroad passes to run a newspaper. But money—heavens to Betsy and six hands round, who ever needed money to run a newspaper? Kind words are the medium of exchange that do the business for the editor—kind words and social tickets. When you see an editor with money watch him. He will be paying bills and disgrace the profession. Make him trade it out. Then when you die, after having stood around and sneered at his jimcrow paper, be sure and have your wife in for three extra copies, and when she reads the generous and touching notices about you, forewarn her to neglect to send the 15 cents to the editor. The editor knows it and what he wants is heartfelt thanks. Then he can thank the printers and they can thank the grocers. Don't worry about the editor. He has a charter from the State to act as doormat for the community. He'll get the paper out somehow, and stand up for you when you run for office, and lie about your pigeon-footed daughter's wedding and blow about your big-footed boys when they get a $4 a week job, and weep over your shrivelled soul when it is released from your grasping body, and smile at your wife's second marriage. He'll get along. The Lord only knows how, but the editor will get there somehow.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by L. S. Simmons, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Rev. C. C. Cragin, pastor of the Congregational church, married J. N. Starke and Marie Hoppell in this place Saturday. The contracting parties drove over from Petaluma and after the nuptial knot was tied returned to that city.

If a Cow gave Butter

mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

Scott's Emulsion

combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food-medicine in the world.

REPUBLICANS SELECT STRONG CANDIDATES

Price for Senator and Pond for District Attorney Win Out—The Ticket.

The Republican County Convention met Tuesday in Santa Rosa and selected a very strong ticket. The convention was a united body of men for all the nominees if we except those for State Senator and District Attorney.

Walter F. Price, nominee for Senator, had a strong competitor in Chas. E. Humbert of Cloverdale who received 65 ballots as against 73 cast for Mr. Price.

The contest between Chas. H. Pond and Jos. P. Berry for the District Attorneyship was not near so spirited as was anticipated by Mr. Berry's advocates, as he was easily defeated by Mr. Pond, incumbent, by a vote of 80¼ to 55½.

The balloting was as follows:

Township	Vote	Pond	Berry
Analy	13	9	3
Bodaga	6	3	3
Cloverdale	5	5	..

Santa Rosa	38	18½	19½
Sonoma Glen Ellen	11	5	6
Vallejo	6	6	..
Washington	4	4	..
Total	139	80¼	55½

Aside of the contests mentioned above all the other candidates were nominated by acclimation.

Following is the ticket:

EARNEST MEMBERS OF FATHER'S CLUB.

Have Retained Bert Schlesinger, the Well-Known San Francisco Attorney.

At a meeting of the Father's Club, held last Sunday in Weyl's Hall, several new members enrolled their names. President Thos. Brown was in the chair and called the members to order.

The question of the action of the School Trustees in forcing principal Nolan on the patrons of the school, many of whom bitterly resent the action of the School Board, came up for discussion, and it was unanimously decided to employ counsel to represent the club in its efforts to bring about a change in school matters here and thus promote peace and harmony in the community, which can never be looked for while principal Nolan presides over the Sonoma Grammar School.

It was then decided to secure the services of Bert Schlesinger, the well known attorney of San Francisco, who was subsequently employed by the club to look after its interests in school matters here.

With that end in view attorney Schlesinger was in consultation with District Attorney Pond and other county officials at the county seat Thursday.

There will be another meeting of the Father's Club to-morrow (Sunday) evening.

Tom Wilson, City Clerk of Cloverdale, and one of its leading business men, is in town. Mr. Wilson resided here many years ago and is well and favorably known to all the old families.

WORK STOPS ON NEW CITY HALL.

Contractor MacQuiddy Suspends Operations—Financial Difficultios the Cause.

Contractor John T. MacQuiddy has suspended operations on the New City Hall and it is problematical when work on the building will be resumed.

The contract called for the erection of a stone building to cost between $12,000 and $15,000. Already over $7,000 has been spent for material and labor by the contractor and hardly a third of the edifice is completed.

The cost to the city so far has been $1,000. The other $6,000 represents the contractor's loss, who has been badly handicapped since the earthquake and fire in San Francisco by a ruinous advance in the cost of labor and material.

It is the opinion of experts that the building cannot be completed for less than $25,000 should present prices for labor and building material continue to prevail

BOLD BURGLAR ROBS STAR SALOON

Breaks Open Trunk and Secures Cash, Jewelry and an Endorsed Check.

On Saturday night last a burglar effected an entrance into a rear room of the Star saloon, facing the railway depot, and secured between $75 and $100 worth of valuables. The burglar forced his way into the room through a window and ransacked a trunk, securing a twenty-dollar gold piece, a quantity of jewelry and a check for $18.55 drawn on the Sonoma County Bank.

A ranch hand named Fillis was suspected of the crime and a warrant was sworn out for his arrest and placed in Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan's hands. After Fillis had been placed under arrest and released under bonds it was discovered that the wrong man had been suspected and he was discharged from custody.

The man whom the officers are now looking for as being the real criminal is one Frank Valdez, who endorsed the stolen check and had it cashed by one of our business men. After securing the money Valdez disappeared. Officers are now on his track and expect to apprehend him.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Discuss Tax Levy and Readvertise for Bids for Wrecking Court House.

The Board of Supervisors adjourned their session on Saturday until Monday, September 17, when they will meet to fix the tax levy for the ensuing year. Before adjournment Saturday the Supervisors had a conference regarding the probable tax levy.

The Supervisors have readvertised for bids for the demolition of the old Courthouse. In the new bids attention is called to the fact that the bidders can have more of the iron work, etc., than was included in the first announcement. The bids heretofore made were all rejected at the last meeting of the Board.

While nothing definite was intimated the levy will probably be between 1.55 and 1.58. At any rate the Board are all agreed that it shall be just as low as it can be to meet all the demands that have to be met during the year.

Price of Wine Grapes.

Wine grapes are commanding a bigger price this season than for twenty years. Growers are holding out for thirty dollars per ton, but many winemakers are reluctant to make contracts at that figure. They claim the merchants who handle the vintages in San Francisco have failed so far to guarantee them a price for their wine that would justify them in paying $30 per ton for grapes. However that may be, the growers are still holding out for that figure.

SONOMA VALLEY SCHOONER SERVICE.

Twin Screw Propeller "Sonoma Valley" Making Regular Trips to and from the City.

The schooner service recently inaugurated between Hauto's Landing on Sonoma creek and San Francisco by the Sonoma Valley Transportation Company is proving a great convenience to the shippers of fruit, merchandise, etc., in this valley. This company is now delivering freight in the valley, the cost being the same delivered at your door as the railway rates for delivery at stations. The "Sonoma Valley" is making regular trips, leaving Hauto's old landing on Sonoma creek every Monday and Thursday and returning from Washington-street wharf, San Francisco every Tuesday and, Friday.

The drawbridge being constructed across Midshipman's slough by the California Northwestern railway is rapidly nearing completion. When this structure is finished the slough will be open to navigation and Capt. Scheller of this new schooner service will then be enabled to make his landings at the head of Schell's slough, three and a half miles south of Sonoma, a saving of nearly two miles in the hauling distance between town and tide water.

THE SECRET OUT.

A Wide Open Statement.

To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formulas and other untruthful statements published concerning Doctor Pierce's World-famed Family Medicines, the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women and his extra tonic alterative known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Hereafter every bottle of these medicines carrying the great Laboratory and Stone roof, preserved by chemically pure glycerine.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, being made of native medicinal roots, is next to Nature and is the best tonic you can use. It fills the blood with rich, red blood corpuscles. It gives you a feeling of strength, and it puts sunshine into your system as no other remedy can. That is why Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been such a favorite for the past forty years. No man or woman can be either healthy or handsome who has impurities in the blood, for it will show in pimples, boils, and eruptions, in the dark circles under the eyes and in the sallow complexion. After taking "Golden Medical Discovery" you are bound to have pink cheeks and a fresh complexion. The muscles get the good, rich, red blood, that puts on strength. It is a flesh builder, but not a fat builder.

As an example of the good results thus obtained note the following letter:

"In the year 1899, I had an attack of indigestion so bad that my home doctor said he could not do me any good," writes Mr. G. Trout, of Gordonville, Texas. "I wrote to you and you advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, so I bought six bottles, and when I commenced using it I was so weak I could hardly walk about the house. By the time I had used one bottle my stomach and bowels commenced to heal. There were strips of the lining of my bowels as large as a man's finger passed and I had a great deal of misery in my stomach and bowels, and also in the rectum especially. I could not eat anything without having much distress afterward, but by the time I had taken eight bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I was sound and well, and could eat anything I pleased without suffering in the least. Could also do as much work in a day as I ever could. I have not suffered from the trouble since."

MEDICINES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

If suffering from an obstinate malady which would one naturally prefer to take, a medicine of known composition, every ingredient of which has the endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers, or one which, for aught you may know, may be made up of very inefficient and even harmful agents? Is it not best to insist upon knowing what one is taking, as is every one's right, whether being prescribed for by the family physician or making use of a proprietary remedy? We think so, especially in view of the disparaging articles concerning various advertised remedies with which the drug and medical journals have been filled for months past. Doctor Pierce courts the severest criticism of the medical profession as to the value of his published formulæ, confident that he will receive fair treatment from all fair-minded, well qualified brethren of the medical profession who cannot be blamed for not endorsing medicines of the composition of which they and the people are kept in ignorance.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets

These are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce. They've been much imitated but never equaled. Smallest, easiest to take and best. They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, a concentrated and concentrated vegetable tract. Without disturbance or trouble, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, sick and bilious headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured. Permanently cured, too. By their mild and natural action, these little Pellets gently lead the system into natural ways again. Their influence lasts.

THE SURGEON'S TOOLS

AS FEW AS POSSIBLE USED BY THE MODERN PRACTITIONER.

To Remove an Appendix, For Instance, He Can Carry Everything Necessary In One of His Pockets. Hand Forged Instruments the Best.

"A surgeon used to carry a bag of instruments weighing often as much as twenty-five pounds when he was called to operate," said a member of the staff of the New York Postgraduate Medical School and Hospital the other day. "Today an average operation, such as the removal of an appendix, calls for no more instruments than can be carried in the pockets.

"I have just come," continued the doctor, "from removing an appendix, and here in this small package are all the instruments I used—a scissors, two artery clamps, two forceps and a needle. Many operations, of course—gastro-enteric, gynecological and those that have to do with bones—require more instruments, but modern science demands the use of as few as possible in order that time may be saved. Skill and haste are prime factors in an operation. In the old days, before anaesthesia was known, this was to shorten the patient's agony as much as possible. After ether was discovered surgeons for awhile operated more leisurely, but soon finding out that the shock to the patient remaining under ether so long was always dangerous and often fatal they again recognized the importance of swiftness. Diminishing the number of instruments was one of the methods for saving time. In the operating room in the old days there was always, no matter what the operation, a good sized table laid out with ten or fifteen score of instruments, fifty artery clamps, scissors, forceps and lancets by the dozen. It used to take over an hour to remove an appendix; today the average is about twelve minutes.

"The variety of instruments increases every year as surgeons meet with new needs or solve old problems. In our school here, as in others, many instruments have been devised. Especially to those having to do with the eye, ear, nose and throat have we made valuable additions as well as in the field of orthopedic appliances. The Hippocratic oath precludes the patenting of any such inventions; consequently all instruments are free to be made by all and every surgical manufactory."

The making of surgical instruments in the United States is nearly contemporaneous with the beginning of the republic, and one or two of the prominent firms today date from long before the civil war. In no country are finer instruments made than in the United States. Though the number of men employed is small, every man is a skilled laborer and an artist, with an adroitness often as fine as that of a journeyman jeweler, capable of making even the most delicate of the great variety of instruments, amounting to about 10,000, which a surgical house must keep in stock or be ready to produce upon order.

Cast and drop forged instruments have no lasting value, and once the edge is worn off they can never be satisfactorily resharpened. The process which they undergo demands that they be brought three times to a white heat. The first time the steel becomes tempered; the second and third time it becomes decarbonized and loses its temper, the result being an instrument with a shell of hard steel, capable of taking a fair edge, but beneath which the metal is soft and unfit to stand honing.

"All good instruments are hand forged. Thus prices are doubled and trebled over the prices of cast instruments because of the skilled labor and time necessary to their construction. The workman in a careful factory must make a study of his work and learn the physical qualities of the steel or metal he works with, its strength and cutting and tension qualities. General operating instruments are made of steel, silver, platinum-gold and aluminium. German steel, owing to its tenacity, is used for forceps and blunt instruments; English cast steel for edged tools, as it receives a high temper, a fine polish and retains its edge. Silver when pure is very flexible and is useful for catheters, which require frequent change of curve. When mixed with other metals, as coin silver, it makes firm catheters, caustic holders and cannulated work. Seamless silver instruments are least liable to corrode. Platinum resists the action of acids and ordinary heat and is useful for caustic holders, actual cauteries and the electrodes of the galvano cautery. Gold, owing to its ductility, is adapted for fine tubes, such as eye syringes and so forth, while aluminium is by its extreme lightness suitable for probes, styles and tracheotomy tubes.

"Handles are made of ebony, ivory, pearl or hard rubber. Ebony and rubber are used for large instruments, though these at times have handles of steel. Ivory makes a durable and beautiful handle, though it and ebony are not entirely aseptic, because it is impossible to boil them for the purpose of sterilization without their cracking. Ivory and pearl are used for scalpels and for small instruments like those used in operating on the eye. On the whole, the best material for handles is hard rubber, since it may be vulcanized on the instrument, thus making it practically one piece, with no possible seam for the lodging of germs and hence perfectly safe.

"Next to the materials the mode of making determines the instrument's quality. Steel overheated in the forge is brittle or rotten. In shaping with the file the form may be destroyed. In hardening and tempering the steel may be spoiled. In every stage the value of the instrument depends upon the skill applied."—New York Post.

Use For Spoiled Beer.

"There is no need," said a brewer, "for us to throw away beer that has turned sour, nor is there any need for us to try to doctor it up. We have a ready sale for our spoiled beer among cement makers. Don't think from this that cement makers have a morbid taste for sour beer. Nothing of the kind. They use this beer in making cement for leather joints. It takes the place of acid, being cheaper and yet just as good."

PAIN FROM A BURN PROMPTLY RELIEVED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S PAIN BALM.

Mr. James N. Nichols, a merchant and postmaster at Vernon, Conn., makes the following statement. "A little child of Michael Strauss was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr Strauss came to me for something to stop the little one's pain. From the many liniments I carry in stock, I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint."

Natural History.

"Mamma, what are twins?" asked little Bobby.

"Oh, I know," chimed in Dorothy, with all the superiority of an elder sister. "Twins is two babies just the same age, three is triplets, four is quadrupeds, and five is centipedes."—Harper's Weekly.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Is worth a pound of cure. There are many poor sufferers. Consumptives who are hopeless of getting well—who, if they had taken care of themselves, would now be well. A cough is the foundation of consumption. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. Mrs. S——, Great Falls, Montana, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for years. My children never suffer with coughs."

GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE

Was the greatest General the world has ever known. Ballard's Snow Liniment is the greatest liniment. Quickly cures all pains. It is within the reach of all. T. H. Pointer, Hemstead, Texas, writes: "This is to certify that Ballard's Snow Liniment has been used in my household for years and has been found to be an excellent liniment for rheumatic pains. I am never without it."

Shadeless Forests.

Large tracts of dense forests in Australia are practically shadeless. Many kinds of trees in that strange country turn their edges instead of the flat surface of the leaves to the sun, and thus one may stand under a tree of enormous size and be as fully exposed to the sun as though he were in the open plain. Travel through these forests is said to be exceedingly arduous work, as the trees, while they do not cut off the sun, prevent the breeze from reaching the ground, and thus the traveler experiences a stifling heat.

SHE FOUND RELIEF.

If you are troubled with liver complaint and have not received help read this: Mrs. Mary E. Hammond, Moody, Texas, says: "I was in poor health—with liver trouble—for over a year. Doctors did me no good and I tried Herbine, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for Herbine, as it is a wonderful liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish this where you wish."

Stephen Girard, Hero.

A tablet "in commemoration of the courage and humanity displayed by Stephen Girard during the epidemic of yellow fever in the year 1793" in Girard college in Philadelphia discloses a phase of character in the philanthropist not generally understood. During the fever epidemic he gave up his business and his luxurious home and assumed the superintendency of a yellow fever hospital. He took up the work others recoiled from and did the work because it was his duty.

On Himself.

They had quarreled again.

"Perhaps you are not aware," she said, "that I had over a dozen proposals of marriage before I accepted yours."

He flushed.

"And perhaps, madam," he retorted haughtily, "you are not aware that I proposed to nearly twenty women before I became acquainted with yourself."

Temper.

If a man has a quarrelsome temper, let him alone. The world will soon find him employment. He will soon meet with some one stronger than himself who will repay him better than you can. A man may fight duels all his life if he is disposed to quarrel.—Cecil.

Posted.

"Can you repeat the Declaration of Independence?" she asked.

"I used to be able to," he replied, "but about all I remember of it now is, 'To be or not to be—that is the question.'"—Judge.

A popular soprano is said to have a voice of fine timbre, a willowy figure, cherry lips, chestnut hair and hazel eyes. She must have been raised in the lumber region.

WAS A VERY SICK BOY

But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"When my boy was two years old he had a severe attack of bowel complaint, but by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we brought him out all right," says Maggie Hickox of Midland, Mich. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe cases. Even cholera infantum is cured by it. Follow the plain printed directions and a cure is certain.

Food Value of Cheese.

It is said that one pound of cheese is equal in food value to more than two pounds of meat. It is very rich in proteids and fat. Considering this, it is low in price when compared with meat and ought to do good service to the poor man in replacing occasionally the regular diet of meat. In America cheese is looked upon more as a side dish and luxury than in some parts of Europe. The Swiss peasant depends on it as a staple second only to bread, while the use of it in England and Germany is extensive.

Delay Fatal.

Visitor (to widow)—I am so sorry to hear of the sudden death of your husband. Did they hold a postmortem examination?

"Yes, and like those doctors, they did not hold it until he was dead, or they might have saved his life."—Clinical Reporter.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PAIN BALM

Called Back.

A commercial traveler for a London firm secured an order for £1,000 in the west of England and, as it was not duly acknowledged, wrote a letter to the firm calling special attention to it and saying, "I thought you would consider such an order quite a feather in my cap."

In reply he received this note from his principal: "We have filed your order and inclose for your cap the one feather you require."

After a fortnight came another letter from the firm: "The people who gave you the £1,000 order have failed, and we lose the goods. We have this day sent to you a bagful of feathers for you to fly home with, as we do not want you out on the road for us any more."—Strand Magazine.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY ACTS ON NATURE'S PLAN.

The most successful medicines are those that aid nature. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. Take it when you have a cold and it will allay the cough, relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and aid nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have certified to its superior excellence. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. Price, 25 cents. Large size 50 cents.

Stock in a Big Mail Order House

Six per Cent Earnings Guaranteed

And Enables You to Buy Anything for Home, Yourself or Family, at Same Price Your Local Dealer Pays

Price of Stock Will soon Be Advanced

Act Quickly

Look out for that "rainy day!"

It comes sooner or later for so many—we can't tell to-day who may want on the morrow.

Prepare now while you are able for any misfortune that may overtake you. Don't run any risks.

Here is something that will help you provide for the rainy day—an investment that carries with it unusual benefits and proves its value from the minute you buy the stock.

Smith's Cash Store is well and favorably known all over the West. Its reputation is of the best and in volume of business it is making tremendous strides forward every year. Some five years ago the stock was selling for $5.00 a share. Today the price is $10.00 a share. These figures demonstrate what a thriving institution is this biggest Mail Order House on the Pacific Coast.

Each share of stock is guaranteed to earn 6 per cent a year. But the greatest benefit is derived by the stockholder from the discounts given to the holders of five or more shares of stock. You can buy anything to eat, use or wear at the same price the goods would cost your local dealers. We call them "Owner's Prices."

Suppose you buy goods that altogether cost $50 at our wholesale rate. If you are a stockholder you get a discount amounting to $2.50, and your bill is only $47.50. The saving you will make in one year in addition to the earnings will in all probability more than cover the investment.

Year after year you will be effecting big savings. But should hard times knock at your door—and you must not be too sure that something of that sort will not happen—think what it will mean to you to be able to buy everything at cost prices. It might be the very thing that would help you to survive the period of distress.

We are increasing the amount of our capital stock. We are telling you about the stock because we think you ought to invest for your own sake. You couldn't buy stock in any other concern that would pay you so well.

It will not be long before the price of the stock is advanced. You know that means there are not many days remaining in which you can take advantage of this great offer.

For your convenience we are printing a coupon which you ought to fill out—it does not obligate you in any way. Send it at once.
